In an era where being child-free is no longer as unusual as it once was, deciding whether or not to have kids is a conversation you should have before you tie the knot. If one of you wants kids but the other isn't sure, that insecurity can spell doom for a relationship. It's also important to discuss how you want to raise your future children. You don't need a dissertation on your parenting philosophy, but it may be helpful to talk about it beforehand.
