Software has become an essential enabler for science and the economy. Not only does it create new markets and the possibility of a more reliable, flexible and robust society, it also empowers our exploration of the world in ever increasing depth. However software often falls short of our expectations, with current methodologies, tools and techniques remaining insufficiently robust and reliable for constantly changing and evolving needs. This book presents papers from the 15th International Conference on New Trends in Intelligent Software Methodology Tools and Techniques (SoMeT 16), held in Larnaca, Cyprus, in September 2016. The SoMeT conference focuses on exploring the innovations, controversies and challenges facing the software engineering community, bringing together theory and experience to propose and evaluate solutions to software engineering problems with an emphasis on human-centric software methodologies, end-user development techniques, and emotional reasoning, for an optimally harmonized performance between the design tool and the user. The book is divided into six chapters covering the following areas: decision support systems; software methodologies and tools; requirement engineering; software for biomedicine and bioinformatics; software engineering models, and formal techniques for software representation; and intelligent software development and social networking. The book explores new trends and theories which illuminate the direction of developments in the field, and will be of interest to all in the software science community.

The CMOS (Complementary Metal Oxide Semiconductor) image sensor of a smartphone

has been known for its sensitivity to gamma-rays. In this research, the four models of smartphones (Samsung Galaxy GT-S5570 mini, Samsung Galaxy SII, Samsung Galaxy SIII and Huawei Ascend P7) were selected and tested for measurement of gamma-rays emitted from Iridium-192, Cobalt-60 and Cesium-137 sources. During measurements, the phones were set in video mode while the camera lenses were covered with black adhesive tape to prevent light exposure. Interaction of gamma-rays with the CMOS clearly appeared as flashing bright spots on the dark background image. The bright spots were then counted by the freely available ImageJ software. Preliminary results indicated that the number of bright spots increased linearly with increasing gamma-ray dose rate from these three sources. Among these four models of smartphone, Huawei Ascend P7 gave the highest sensitivity and the second was Samsung Galaxy SIII. Then Huawei Ascend P7 and Samsung Galaxy SIII were calibrated and tested in measurement of gamma-ray dose rate in comparison with the known values and with the dose rate survey meter. The results were very satisfactory. Application software for Android smartphones was finally developed so that the number of bright spots could be simultaneously counted and converted to gamma-ray dose rate to display on the smartphones.

The number of diagnosed cases of primary immunodeficiency diseases (PIDs) - a group of inborn disorders of the immune system - is growing rapidly, but misdiagnosis or late diagnosis still occurs in a significant number of patients, with serious consequences. This is the second edition of a Recent observational developments are providing the first truly panchromatic view of galaxies, extending from the radio to TeV gamma-rays. This is motivating the development of new models for the interpretation of spectral energy distributions (SEDs) of galaxies in terms of the formation, evolution and emission of stellar and accretion-driven sources of photons, the interaction of the photons with the gaseous and dust components of the interstellar medium, and high-energy processes involving cosmic rays. IAU Symposium 284 details progress in the development of such models, their relation to fundamental theory, and their application to the interpretation of the panchromatic emission from the Milky Way and nearby galaxies, connecting the latter with models for the evolution of the SEDs of distant galaxies, and the extragalactic background light. IAU S284 is a useful resource for all researchers working with the copious amounts of multiwavelength data for galaxies now becoming available.
